Introduction

Dear Reader,

We created this guide because too many families find themselves unprepared when the unthinkable happens.

Our mission is to help people like you make informed, powerful decisions while there's still time to plan.

These seven things will change the way you think about legacy, life insurance, and the steps you can take now to protect the people you love.

We hope this helps you take control of your future — and we're here when you're ready.

01

If You Don't Plan Your Exit, Someone Else Will

Without a plan, your family could be left in confusion, conflict, and even debt. When you pass, courts and strangers shouldn't be the ones deciding who gets what.

Smart Move: Draft a will and talk to a licensed advisor to get your affairs structured. We can help you get started.

02

Life Insurance Is Not For You — It's For Them

*“Legacy is not leaving something for people.
It’s leaving something in people.”*
— Peter Stropole

Life insurance isn't about you. It's for the people you leave behind. It's the fastest way to leave behind tax-free money that solves problems, not creates them.

Smart Move: Let us help you find a plan that fits your goals and budget.

03

The Government Has a Plan For Your Money — If You

Don’t

Without beneficiaries or setup, your money gets tied up in court. That delays everything and causes unnecessary stress.

Smart Move: Review your accounts and policies with us to make sure everything is secure.

04 Your Medical Decisions Could Be In the Hands of a Stranger

If you can't speak, who makes medical choices for you?

Without a directive, it might be the wrong person.

Smart Move: We'll help you get your healthcare power of attorney squared away.

After preparing your plan and locking in your coverage, take time to make your medical wishes clear. Assign someone you trust to speak on your behalf, and write down your preferences. A plan isn't complete without protecting your voice, too.

3 Things You Can Do to Protect Your Medical Choices

1 Assign a Healthcare Power of Attorney

Choose someone you trust to make decisions if you can't.

2 Write Down Your Treatment Preferences

Include directions for life support, resuscitation, and emergency care.

3 Store It Where It Can Be Found

Make sure your decision-maker and family know where to find the documents.

failure isn’t an option.”*

05

Debt Doesn't Die With You (Always)

Some debt disappears. Others pass on. Final expense coverage makes sure your family isn't stuck.

Smart Move: We can show you affordable, guaranteed-issue policies today.

06

The Funeral Home Doesn't Wait — But Insurance Can Pay Before They Ask

Funerals cost $8,000–$12,000 and happen fast. Most families aren't prepared.

Smart Move: Use a Freedom of Choice Certificate. It pays the funeral home directly within 24–48 hours.

07

Legacy Is Built Now, Not Later

“You may not be here forever, but what you leave behind can be.”

Legacy is more than money. It's what you leave behind emotionally, mentally, and financially.

Smart Move: Let's lock in a plan that makes you proud.

You only die once. But what you leave behind can last forever.

Now that you know the 7 things most people ignore until it's too late, take the next step:

Step 1:

What Your Family Will Receive

This is a real example of the Freedom of Choice Certificate we issue once your policy is approved.

It tells the funeral home that your plan is paid for — no delays, no GoFundMe.

This is only valid after your policy is approved and in force.
